HOLD SECRET PRACTICE AT TIGERS' STADIUM

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 23 .- Secret practice and the stadium were used yesterday for the first time this season. The nearness of the Georgetown game made the coaches resort to closed gates in their efforts to secure a working combination for Saturday's game. There were neveral changes in the varsity back field. Scrimmage lasted more than an hour, the varsity scoring twice in the early part, one on a block kick and again on a pass by Driggs to Highley. The scrub was then given the ball on the 10-yard line, from repeated downs.

runners in the East.
The rushing of Glick back into the tion of the squad. No one with official duties at the Hilltop will offer any optimion on the result of the game, but the players are confident of surprising their followers.

During the past week Manager Billy Butier has been busy keeping everyone who appeared suspicious out of the stadium at the Hilltop, as no chance would be taken that the friendly visitors were not Princeton scouts. Not during the rushing of Glick back into the game gives a good idea of the style of play the Tigers will use. The open defense which the Tigers use may puzzle the Hilltoppers on the forward heave but the powerful rush line of the Blue and Gray should open the way for the local collegian to battle on even terms. Princeton will not take any chance and it will not be surprising if they restort to akickwere not Princeton scouts. Not during surprising if they restort to akicking game.
Doping out the score has held the in game he uncorked yesterday, and well deserved the verdict.

Behind Harper and Boehling, the Nationals played errorless ball. McBride's tumble could not be charged as a miscue, for the reason that George was able to turn said fumble into a fielder's choice, and retire one man, while a run went scampering across the plate.

By Cleaning Up Against Detroit Nationals Can Put the Tigers Out of Fight.

JOHNSON WORKS TODAY

Big Fellow Slated to Oppose Jungaleers in First of Series-Other

Hughey Jennings' Detroit Tigers will have it within their power to put the Tigers completely out of the pennant fight by cleaning up the majority of these games.

As it stands today the Red Sox As it stands today the Red Sox are four and one-half games ahead of Detroit, and up North the pennant is prac-tically conceded Bill Carrigan's crowd, but there still remains an outside chance of Detroit winning. The chance is so re-mote that already plans are being completed to stage part of the world's se-ries in the Massachusetts city.

As he did against the Chicago White Sox, Manager Griffith proposes to put his strongest team, including pitchers, against the Tigers during the series which start today. Walter Johnson is slated to work this afternoon, and will also probably pitch again next Tuesday.

The American League pennant race will be decided right here in the Capital for if the Griffmen manage to win th majority of games from Detroit the Tigers will be entirey out of the fight, while, on the other hand, if Detroit wins all five games and the St. Louis Browns should manage to cop two or three games from the Red Sox, then the race would again develop into a thriller, with While the Tigers wiped the earth with Connie Mack's Athletics in Philadelphia the past three days, Boston also slamme four games and increasing their lead, consequently Detroit could not make up any lost ground—in fact, this club drop-ped further into the rut, as Boston playany lost ground—in fact, this club dropped further into the rut, as Boston played one more game than did the Tigers.

Manager Jennings, who arrived in town with his club late last night, refuses to be counted out of the flag fight.

"My team will not quit—we are playing just as good ball as we know how and are prepared to give Washington all the fight it wants," said the peppery leader of the Jungaleers.

This is one reason why Capital fans always flock to the ball yard when Device of the said and are of equal strength according to past averages.
